Paul J. Miller, Deputy Director & Chief Scientist NESCAUM

Dr. Paul J. Miller is Deputy Director and Chief Scientist of the Northeast States for Coordinated Air Use Management (NESCAUM) in Boston, Massachusetts where he provides technical and policy coordination among the air quality agencies of eight northeastern states. Dr. Miller returned to NESCAUM in January 2006 after previously being with NESCAUM from 1995-1999 as Senior Science and Policy Advisor. He has contributed to state efforts on ozone transport, acid rain, regional haze, and other air issues.

From 1999-2005, Dr. Miller was the Air Quality Program Coordinator with the Commission for Environmental Cooperation (CEC) in Montreal, Quebec. The CEC is a trinational intergovernmental agency created by Canada, Mexico and the United States to promote environmental cooperation among the three NAFTA trading partners.

Dr. Miller has been a Senior Fellow at Princeton University's Center for Energy and Environmental Studies. Previous to Princeton, he was Senior Energy Fellow at the W. Alton Jones Foundation in Charlottesville, Virginia. He also was a National Research Council Associate at the Joint Institute for Laboratory Astrophysics, University of Colorado and the National Institute of Standards and Technology, in Boulder, Colorado.

Dr. Miller has a B.S. in Chemistry from Purdue, a Ph.D. in chemical physics from Yale, and a law degree from Stanford.
