

Melanie Anne Egorin

Melanie Anne Egorin is the Assistant Secretary for Legislation (ASL) at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). In this role, Dr. Egorin serves as principal advisor to the Secretary with respect to all aspects of the Department's legislative agenda and Congressional liaison activities.

Dr. Egorin has 25 years of health policy experience including more than 15 years with the federal government. A nationally recognized expert for breadth and depth of strategic policy knowledge in federal health programs and the American health system. Dr. Egorin was most recently the Deputy Staff Director for the Health Subcommittee and professional tax staff for the Committee on Ways and Means in the U.S. House of Representatives. Prior to joining Ways and Means, Dr. Egorin was a Senior Analyst at the Government Accountability Office (GAO) focusing on a range of public payer health policy issues. Throughout her career, Dr. Egorin has been recognized for her collaborative workstyle, bipartisan leadership, and mentorship. She holds both Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Emory University and a Ph.D. from the University of California San Francisco. Originally from Baltimore, Dr. Egorin lives in Washington, DC with her husband, 2 children, and dog.