

W. Skyler Dooley, J.D., M.P.A.

Retired United States Army, Master Sergeant

Skyler Dooley is a Veteran of the United States Army and active Public Servant. He entered the Army as an enlisted Infantryman from 1998 to 2018, retiring after 20 years of active service. Skyler served in several units over the years including the 101st Airborne Division, 2nd Infantry Division and The NCO Academy at Ft. Benning, Georgia.

Following his military retirement, he earned his Master's in Public Administration, and a Juris Doctor Degree from the Creighton University School of Law. While studying Law, Skyler was a member of the Military Law Society and discovered his desire to continue public service during his internship with the local County Attorney's Office.

While attending Graduate and Law School he was appointed as the Chairman of the Pottawattamie County Veterans Affairs Commission in Council Bluffs, Iowa. While serving in this position he was afforded the opportunity to receive additional training as a Veterans Service Officer (VSO).

Skyler, his wife Rita, and their three children, Jaydon, Cole and Isabelle, currently reside on a small acreage in North Texas as he continues to serve his community as a Public Prosecutor.
